

THE SPEAKER

A black and white photograph of a man in a hoodie standing at the front of a classroom, gesturing with his hands while speaking. Several students are seated at desks in the foreground, some looking towards the speaker. A large screen is visible behind the speaker, and a clock is on the wall to the right.

" So powerful, dynamic and energetic. A full circle, real deal whole person!"

"This guy is a natural public speaker. He's charismatic, hilarious, super witty, and had really, really great lessons to teach us as he spoke about life and living"

In his captivating speaking engagements, SILVASTONE uses the uncertainties of his life journey and self-made career to offer inspiration and knowledge to the audience. He speaks of how he embraces the importance of perseverance, resilience, and confidence to follow his own path, trusting his heart and mind to overcome any barriers.

“I really enjoyed the performance today. SILVASTONE is a very talented and great artist.

You can see in his backstory that as he grew up in a tough life, he started progressing and progressing and he loved to make music.

I really loved his performance today. I was part of the performance, it was just the best! I’m proud of myself!”

SILVASTONE is passionate about young people and adults alike, understanding the power of being who they want to be and his aim in his speaking engagements and practical workshops is to equip the audience with the confidence, self-assurance, and conviction to truly be themselves.

SILVASTONE has spoken to audiences of children, teens, and adults across the UK and North America, on discussion panels and to both large and more intimate groups. The audience comments on his wit, infectious positivity, and new realisations of themselves.

“He was very inspiring and I think we should make more music next time!”

“It was a good experience for me. SILVASTONE is a very good producer.”

“It was cool. It was so satisfying to watch and I wanted to go up there and perform.”
